I've known Lisa for 30 some years. Met her when she worked for Waterfront Press. She is brilliant, buoyant, brainy, bubbly, brave, brassy and beautiful. And those are just the B's...

Lisa Davidson is one of the most talented and inspirational writers I've ever worked with. Her energy and enthusiasm is refreshing and infectious. She has the rare ability to take business objectives beyond the bland or the obvious, and transform them into meaningful experiences that resonate with the target audience. It's been a real pleasure working with her."

Lisa is a fantastic writer and incredible creative talent. She was able to use her gifts to turn the typically dry descriptions our office produces into exciting and fascinating events.

More than that, she cares deeply about what she work on, throwing herself into it 100% and coming up with all kinds of creative ideas. Wherever she works, she can make the organization look better than you ever thought possible.

I met Lisa while we were students in the University of Washington's Honors English program. I was immediately attracted to her vivacious personality and enthusiasm for the written word and felt privileged to become a close friend of hers after graduation. She is exceptionally intelligent, creative, and has a readily facile use of the English language. A mutual writing professor confided to me after our Honors Creative Writing class one night that "Lisa had true talent." I have no doubt that any project she chooses to undertake would be tackled with whole-hearted enthusiasm; the result, one of high quality.

Lisa is a detail-oriented Creative Writer who watches the dot's and ensure each "T" is crossed. I am very pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Lisa Davidson. I have worked with many people in my over my fifteen-year customer service career, and she stands out among the most creative, cheerful and dedicated to her passion.

I have personally worked on several projects with Lisa including the company blog, Twitter launch write ups and even personal document revisions. Lisa is certainly a team player, and once you meet her ,experience her passion for writing and view her attention to detail you will certainly agree with me, when I say Lisa Davidson "Creates like no other, and shares her passion where ever she goes."

Lisa was a volunteer in a program I supervised with the King County Superior Court in Seattle, Washington, where she represented the best interests of children in Family Law disputes. Her investigative, writing and testifying skills were outstanding. She didn't get flustered i dealing with difficult situations and individuals, was also on time with her reports and I consider her a person of high integrity. Lisa is that rare 'find', where you know you can trust her to do what she says she will do. I will be pleased to offer any additional information anybody might need.
